A SMILE SO BRIGHT

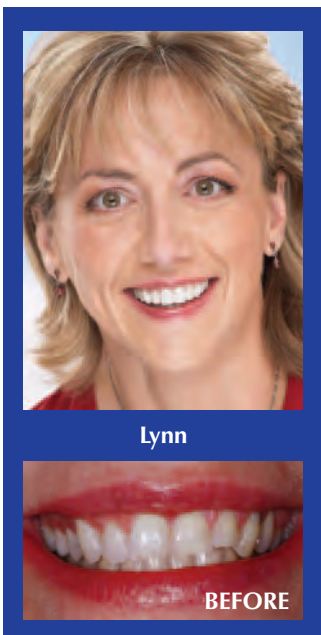

Dr. John M. Hucklebridge
Creating Smiles...Changing Lives™

In the poem, Smiles, by Kashif Riley, one line reads 'A smile so bright, it turns my night into glorious day...'

Latrice

Lynn

For as long as we can remember, poets have written about beautiful smiles, but in reality, many people are born with smiles that are not perfect.

Dr. John M. Hucklebridge, DDS FAGD, is an expert in cosmetic, implant and general dentistry. He has a 21-year background in helping his patients achieve the ultimate smile. "Dentistry is a combination of art and science," he says. "Dentistry today can realistically be called an art form."

Lynn, a homemaker and student says, "I felt like my smile made me look older. My teeth were small, crooked and uneven. I wanted options and had thought about cosmetic dentistry for years, but thought I could not afford it. Then I was referred to Dr. John M. Hucklebridge. He used a cosmetic crown lengthening process and placed all ceramic Empress veneers on my upper teeth, which added length. He then whitened my lower teeth with Zoom II and fitted me with Invisalign, which straightened the teeth that were uneven. The end result is the exact smile I had dreamed about for years."

Dallas realtor Latrice says, "I can't stop smiling. My teeth were small and discolored with jagged edges, which made them appear broken. They had bothered me for years. I was getting married and wanted to have a beautiful smile for those wedding pictures."

Dr. John M. Hucklebridge put all ceramic Empress veneers on Latrice's upper teeth and treated her lower teeth with Zoom II. Now her teeth all match perfectly.

What sets Dr. John M. Hucklebridge apart? Experience, commitment to learning technologies, the ultimate perfectionist are some of the ways patients describe Dr. John M. Hucklebridge. He has trained with some of the most prominent educators and world renowned specialists in the areas of aesthetics, advanced restorative, and implant dentistry.

"We treat our patients like family and I try not to ever keep a patient waiting," Dr. John M. Hucklebridge says. "I listen to them and we form a partnership. Because we provide the highest quality and comprehensive aesthetic, advanced restorative and implant dentistry in the most professional and caring manner, we are able to help them realize their dreams – the perfect smile. We also employ highly qualified dental professionals and utilize leading-edge technologies."

Dr. John M. Hucklebridge admits he loves a challenge. "I love to take someone whose debilitating smile has impacted their self esteem.

One young man who was in an accident that knocked out some teeth and damaged others says, "Dr. John M. Hucklebridge took me from being horrified every time I looked in the mirror, to sheer delight when he was finished. Once you walk in his door, you are going to leave smiling.
